

IDENTIFY YOUR BUSINESS' RISK CENTERS

RiskTracker can help you track and organize claims within your business. You can use risk centers to match a claim with its location. This can help you identify areas that have the most claims, develop solutions to help reduce accidents, allocate expenses and distribute bonuses based on loss history.

Risk centers are set up based on how your business is organized. The first level is typically reserved for the corporate office, but the following levels can be labeled whatever is most appropriate for your business. Below, we've created examples for companies organized by corporate locations, states and divisions.
